

PLANE, LOST IN 1932, IS FOUND IN ANDES TODAY

Crashed While Crossing Mountains; Nine Carried to Death

Mendoza, Argentina, March 22—(AP)—One of the greatest mysteries of the air was solved today when searchers found the wreck of the Pan-American Airways liner, "San Jose," lost twenty months ago in a flight over the Andes.

They found the bodies of the nine occupants of the plane, two of them United States citizens, preserved under a heavy blanket of snow.

Seven of the bodies were said to be in good condition, but the two others were headless.

Crumpled in Mountains

The plane was found crumpled in the Argentine mountains, four miles south of Puento Del Inca.

Its disappearance caused a dogged, widespread search.

For days after it was lost on a flight between Santiago, Chile, and Buenos Aires other planes cruised back and forth over the regular route, in constant touch with Mendoza and Santiago.

Other expeditions were sent out on foot, through snow-covered mountain passes, in an effort to determine the fate of the fliers.

Had Six Passengers

The ship carried six passengers and three crew members.

The passengers were: F. E. Camus, Division Traffic Manager of the Airline; J. C. Sabate; O. S. Pezet; E. E. Raffo; Pinkus Rotszky; F. L. America.

The crew were: Charles J. Robinson, pilot; C. W. Myers, radio operator; A. Woods, steward.

Pilot Robinson left a wife and two children in Chicago. Radio Operator Myers had parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers, living in Canton, Ohio.

Found By Workmen

The plane was discovered by employees of the Puento Del Inca hotel, who advised the Pan-American Airways that the plane was wrecked and contained human bodies.

The airline immediately organized an expedition to the spot which is near the Chilean border at the base of Mount Aconcagua, 23,000 feet high and the loftiest in the Americas.

The San Jose left Santiago at 6:40 A. M. July 16, 1932. Its radio was last heard at 7:45 A. M., but, an hour later, the plane was seen flying over the Argentine Andes, near Las Cuevas, Argentina.

Not only was the flight in the middle of the Chilean-Argentine winter, but the temperature at the top of the Andes is always bitter cold.

Despite the fact that a terrific storm raged on the days following the San Jose's disappearance, as many as 12 airplanes, some supplied by the Chilean Army, went into the air simultaneously in the search.

Lima, Peru, March 22—(AP)—Three persons were killed today when a Pan-American-Graeco Airways plane crashed at the take-off. On board the plane, and injured in the crash, was Manuel Truco, Chilean Ambassador to the United States.

Twelve persons were aboard the plane which was heading south toward Chile.

Among those injured was a daughter of Ambassador Truco.

Both members of the airline's crew were killed. They were Homer V. Farris, Pilot, and Lawrence Wagner, Radio Operator.

Frank Large, secretary to H. R. Harris, Pan American Vice President, was the third victim.

Injured were: Ambassador Truco, hip and pelvis bones fractured; Senora Grace Truco, his daughter, shoulder broken; Senora Carmela Bustamante; John McGregor, Vice-President of Pan-American Airlines.

Thought Motor Failed

It was believed that one of the motors failed at about 65 feet of altitude.

The liner was the "San Pedro." It took off, five minutes late on its south-bound schedule, at 6:35 A. M., after its motors had been duly tested.

It left the field normally but watchers heard the motor fail and saw the pilot attempt to turn the plane back for an emergency landing. It crashed as he failed.

Farris had as his last address Berea, Ky. Wagner was listed from Baltimore. Large was a British subject, born in Cheshire, England. Harris was also on board the ship but uninjured.

STILL SEEK PLANE

Bogota, Colombia, March 22—The Scadia Airline today announced it had decided to suspend search flights for the airplane "Von Krohn," which disappeared 12 days ago in the dense jungle of the Choco district.

On board the plane were three passengers including the American mining engineer, Newton C. Marshall, manager of the Choco Pacific Mining Company.

Scadia announced it considered that the plane could not be found.

WILL F. MILLER OF FRANKLIN IS CALLED TO REST

Passed Away at Son's Home in Sterling on Wednesday Morn

William F. Miller, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Franklin Grove, died at the home of his son, Lloyd W. Miller, 1201 Third avenue, Sterling, Wednesday morning at 6:30 o'clock, after an illness of several months. A general breaking down was the cause of his demise. The body has been taken to Franklin Grove, where the funeral will be held Friday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. C. D. Wilson officiating. Interment will be in the Franklin Grove cemetery.

Mr. Miller was taken to the home of his son for treatment about a month ago. He was born in Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 4, 1858, and went to Franklin Grove 53 years ago, since which time he had made his home in that place. He was a harness maker by trade and conducted a harness shop in Franklin Grove up to the time of his final illness. For many years he had been constable of his home town and was also Clerk of the Modern Woodman camp. A man of unusual good nature, keen thinking, friendly with all, he was one of the most popular men in Franklin Grove.

Mr. Miller is survived by his widow and two children, Lloyd W. Miller of Sterling and Mrs. A. E. Jacobs of Malta; three grandchildren, William Miller of Sterling, and Robert and Virginia Jacobs of Malta; one sister, Mrs. Robert Smithers, Lewistown, Pa., and one brother, John Miller of Chicago.

Pat Roche, former investigator for the State's Attorney's office, said Goetz was the organizer of the Fred Burke gang of killers.

Burke is now serving a life term in the Marquette Mich. penitentiary for murder, before the law caught him, members of his band were accused of major robberies and killings.

Even after gangster enemies pumped bullets into Goetz body in Chicago he might have escaped identification in death if it had not been for a $1,000 bill found in his wallet. That led to the suspicion that he was a racketeer.

When the body was searched the police said they found considerable evidence that he had been engaged in extra-legal activities. Among his possessions were a number of blank proxies for United States Steel Corporation shares made out in the names of Floyd C. Zeigler and Mrs. Mary Zeigler.

Records of the University of Illinois showed that Goetz was a good student, and had actively engaged in extra-curricular affairs, including a membership in the Aviation Club. He entered school in 1919 and was graduated from the School of Commerce.

By suspending the roll calls, both bills were kept alive on the Senate calendar.

Senate attendance was adequate, but neither side could muster enough votes for either bill and the pre-primary deadlock remained unbroken.

The House also was unable to take any action for school financing and the legislative week closed with no progress made.

Whether anything could be done next week was problematical.

Chicago, March 22—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge was a boarder at the county jail today, with her bill paid a week in advance.

She was the "guest" of Mrs. Suzanne Nottingham, a policeman's wife, who had her clapped into jail last night for failing to pay a $7,500 judgment. Mrs. Nottingham won the judgment in a suit in which she charged Mrs. Blackledge with stealing the love of the policeman.

Mrs. Blackledge, former Collector of Internal Revenue, was arrested by four deputies while limping away from a south side apartment.

Copper With Her

Deputy Sheriff Bert Meyerling said that Nottingham was with Mrs. Blackledge when she was seized.

"Mrs. Blackledge," he said, "seemed to have a sprained ankle and Nottingham was helping her along."

The jury which awarded the wife the judgment found that Mrs. Blackledge "maliciously" stole Nottingham's affections, so now it is possible for Mrs. Nottingham to keep her rival in jail six months by paying her weekly board bill of $3.50—unless an appeal is filed. Mrs. Nottingham has paid $3.50 in advance.

Mrs. Blackledge was quoted as saying she had intended to surrender today. An hour after she was locked up, Nottingham went back to work, driving a police patrol. He had previously indicated unwillingness to accept a list of ten commandments listed by his wife, who said she'd let the "whole matter drop" if Nottingham would agree.

Called His Wife

She demanded, among other things, that the policeman "give up all women but me" and come straight home from work, bringing his paycheck with him.

Nottingham denounced the arrest as an "outrage." He then called his wife on the telephone and said: "I hope you're satisfied."

Man Murdered in Cicero was Fred Goetz, 37, Brains of Gang

Chicago, March 22—(AP)—That man whose body they found full of lead in a Cicero gutter Tuesday was identified today as a criminal long hunted for some of the nation's most sensational and cold-blooded crimes.

Except for his fingerprints, the man might have concealed in death, as he so successfully did in life, his true identity—Fred Goetz, 37, college-educated gangster and "brains" of as deadly a group of desperadoes as Chicago police ever hunted.

The law caught up with him post-humously in the morgue where prints taken from his lifeless fingers showed that he was not "J. George Zeigler," under which name he had been tentatively identified, but Goetz, one time student at the University of Illinois, suspected participant not only in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven George Moran gangsters, but in the machine gun slaying of four officers and convict Frank Nash at the Kansas City Union Station last June 17.

Legislature in recess: School relief failed

Nothing Accomplished Toward Relief of Public Schools

Springfield, Ill., March 22—(AP)—Roll calls again failing to pass tax diversion bills, the Senate today adjourned until next Tuesday without being able to take positive action on the school relief issue.

The administration, for the third time in two days, failed to get an emergency majority of two-thirds of its plan to divert part of the gasoline tax revenues into the state school distributive fund.

Failure also marked the attempt of the Republican opposition to pass the House bill to divert liquor revenues to the schools. This bill got only 27 of the necessary 34 votes.

By suspending the roll calls, both bills were kept alive on the Senate calendar.

Senate attendance was adequate, but neither side could muster enough votes for either bill and the pre-primary deadlock remained unbroken.

TOMORROW

From the Spanish of Lope de Vega ORD. what am I, that, with unceasing care, Thou didst seek after me—that Thou didst wait, before my gate, And pass the gloomy nights of winter there? O strange delusion—that I did not greet Thy blest approach, and O, to Heaven how lost, My ingratitude's unkindly frost. Has chilled the bleeding wounds upon Thy feet. How oft my guardian angel gently cried, "Soul, from thy casement look and thou shalt see How he persists to knock and wait for thee!" And, O' how often to that voice of sorrow, "Tomorrow we will open," I replied, And when the morning came I answered still—"Tomorrow."

Regular Meeting of High School P. T. A. Wednesday at School

The regular March meeting of the High School Parent Teachers association was held yesterday afternoon in the music room at the high school, at which time an excellent program was enjoyed. It was a junior class program and was participated in by a boy and girl member of the class, a mother of a junior and a junior instructor. Principal B. J. Frazer of the high school faculty was the principal speaker of the afternoon.

The nominating committee named at the February meeting filed their report and President Mrs. O. F. Goeke announced that the annual election would take place at the March meeting. It was voted to empower the president to select delegates to represent the Dixon association at the annual state convention in Springfield.

Mrs. Florence P. White announced a meeting to be held in Dixon next Tuesday at the high school which will be attended by about 60 ladies from Sterling, Freeport, Rockford, DeKalb and Dixon, representatives from League of Women Voters organizations, Women's clubs and Parent-Teacher associations. The educational conference will last throughout the day with sessions in the morning for the discussion of current problems and in the afternoon, Mrs. Laura Lundy, state chairman of the educational program section of the League of Women Voters, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. White also announced another important undertaking in the Dixon school yesterday. Under the CWS program in the local schools, three nurses have been conducting a health survey under the direction of Miss Nichol, state supervisor of physical education. Beginning this morning these nurses started a home visitation project in conjunction with the school program for the prevention of diphtheria. The survey is to be made city wide and immunization will be administered at the high school on Saturday mornings from 10 to 12 o'clock. The project has the approval of the local medical profession, it was announced.

Mrs. Carl Buchner was chairman of the junior class program which featured the March meeting of the association. Miss Catherine Buchner, girl member of the junior class, read an interesting paper at the outset of the program, in which she outlined the home life of the junior girl student of the high school. A sympathetic understanding evidenced in the homes today between parent and children, the competency of the modern girl to judge her friendships, time limits of visitations were interesting high points in the cleverly arranged paper.

Eugene Gronewold, junior boy, presented a paper on the responsibilities of the home. He outlined five principals, courtesy, sympathy, encouragement, frankness, and patience with which to bring parents and children closer together, adding that the more work put into the average home, made it more appreciable to those who enjoyed it.

Mrs. H. A. Lazier, junior mother in her paper stressed the fact that homes are still the most important than law making and science, citing several references substantiating the fact that homes are institutions of character building and with the moulding of lives.

A. C. Bowers, junior teacher, read a paper on Worthy Home Membership, which brought out the fact that the ideal home should not be considered alone as a parking place at night and a filling station during the day. Parents of the present day are eager to cooperate with the school life of their children and the schools likewise are interested in the home life of the student. Essential for the benefit of the student and the interest of the school in the home, the speaker divided into four sections: educational and cultural level; health conditions in the home life enrichment activities and the ideal developed within the home. He then defined each of these essential in and program of home and school cooperation. In conclusion Mr. Bowers stated that the school should not be considered in the light of trying to invade the home, but in a professional way to benefit and aid the children of the schools.

Principal B. J. Frazer who was the principal speaker of the afternoon discussed the subject, "What school expects of parents of senior graduates." Dealing with all types of children without concessions was the intent of the school policy the speaker stated. Personal contact from the beginning of the child's school life was advised, the responsibility for the success of the child in school resting almost entirely upon the parent. In this connection, the speaker stated that it was highly difficult for the school to contact the parent when the parents do not avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the schools.

Prof. Frazer stated that two outstanding events soon face the members of the senior class, the baccalaureate services to be held at the Assembly park on Sunday, May 27 and the annual graduation exercises on June 1. The expense for the cap and gown which will be worn by the members of the graduating class this spring will be two dollars, as provided by the code, the speaker stated. He also spoke of the junior-senior banquet as one of the closing events of the school year.

Easter Falls on April 1st, This Year

Easter Sunday falls on April 1 this year, the fifth time since 1850, and will again occur on April 1st, the day in 1945.

Easter is the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21 (the spring equinox). Should the full moon occur on Sunday, the Sunday following is regarded as Easter.

Easter can fall on any one of thirty-five dates from March 22 to April 25. Last year it fell on April 16.

Only once since 1850 has Easter fallen on the latest date possible, April 25, and that was in 1896. It again will fall on April 25 in 1943.

The earliest date on which Easter has occurred since 1850 is March 23, in 1856 and in 1913. The last time that Easter fell on April 1 was in 1923.

Time of celebration of the principal church days which depend upon Easter is as follows:

Church Celebrations
Septuagesima Sunday—Nine weeks before Easter.
First Sunday in Lent—Six weeks before Easter.

Ash Wednesday (beginning of Lent)—Forty-six days before Easter.
Palm Sunday—Seven days before Easter.

Rogation Sunday—Five weeks after Easter.
Ascension day (Holy Thursday)—Forty days after Easter.

Pentecost (Whitsunday)—Seven weeks after Easter.
Trinity Sunday—Eight weeks after Easter.

Walnut Household Science Club Has Election of Officers

Mrs. Clarence Hatland, Mrs. Fred Kruse and Mrs. Charles Larkin were hostesses to the Walnut Household Science Club on Friday afternoon at the Hatland home with 25 members present answering roll call with household hints.

During the business meeting the resignation of one member, Mrs. Henry Johnson, was read, and a program arranged by Mrs. Mabel Wesner, Mrs. Rosa Langford and Mrs. Wilbur Strouss was given. Mrs. Rosa Minier gave a very interesting paper on flower transplanting.

A poem, "Love Lightens Labor" was given by Mrs. Wesner. "An Irish Romance" was the name of a contest prepared by Mrs. Strouss. Mrs. Hatland gave recipes for both singer and orange drop cookies.

The annual election of officers resulted in Mrs. W. F. Keithham being elected president; Mrs. Wesnes, vice president; Mrs. Winifred Knight, secretary, and Mrs. Lola Stone, corresponding secretary.

A delicious lunch was served. Club guests were Mrs. Doris Parsons and Mrs. Manlius Lovegreen.

"Sir Richard's Minstrel", Appears Friday

"Sir Richard's Minstrel" to be presented by the Girl Scout Troop 1, at the mid-year Court of Awards promises to be of great interest. It will be given at 7:30 Friday, March 23rd, at the South Central school. The scene is laid in the ancient castle of Sir Richard. The banquet hall is filled with guests who are celebrating the return of Sir Richard's favorite minstrel, who has long been absent at a north country tournament of song.

The returning minstrel is accompanied by some new acquaintances who are also members of the joyous craft. Rounds, ballads, and tales of valor resound through the great hall. Knights and ladies all lend their tones to the favorite melodies until even the lackeys join in.

The minstrel will be introduced by Miss Esther Barton who will paint a word picture of those romantic and gay years of the Great Crusades when the song of the troubadours stirred men to battle and deeds of gallant chivalry.

The cast is as follows:
Sir Richard—Elizabeth Davies
Lady Eleanor—Mary Jane Hober
First Noble—Barbara Campbell
Sir Richard's Minstrel—Betty Allen.

Wandering Troubadour—Mary Jane Lambert.
Italian Jongleur—Anna Marie Crabtree.

Little Maid—Betty Moersbacher
Sextet: Elinor Dodd, Winifred Loftus, Jerry Glennon, Marilyn Crawford, Emily Harrington and Barbara Campbell.

The accompanists will be Margaret Davies and Barbara Williams. The play has been coached by Miss Margaret Ballou and Miss Dorothy Dodd.

Miss Naomi Woll has directed the selection of costumes and the scenery.

Following the minstrel, Girl Scout badges will be awarded by the local director.

Candy and pop corn will be sold by members of the troop. This money will be used to assist girls in paying their national registrations. A small charge of ten cents for adults and five cents for children will help defray the cost of the production.

SOME OPINIONS.

There are innumerable radio addresses on current topics, there are brain trusters writing for this publication and that, but a word now and then from persons who are not on the radio or in the magazines is pertinent now and then. One of the Washington correspondents submits three statements made at different times by different statesmen under different circumstances.

Said Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota: "What's progressing is obvious; the middle class is in process of being dispossessed, extinguished."

Said Senator Marvel M. Logan, Kentucky democrat: "The country which obliterated its middle class is finished. I'm afraid we are moving in that direction."

Said Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, now secretary of state:

"I believe in relieving destitution, of course, but in relieving it so that the destitute will be started backward on the road to supporting themselves; not in continuing to relieve them indefinitely. The policy should be one of restoring the poor to prosperity, rather than of reducing the prosperous to poverty."

There is close relation of the first two statements, but the correspondent put the third one with them.

The point of the first two is that in present processes the great mass of unorganized persons get the worse of a situation when organized capital and organized labor and organized agriculture engage in a conflict over their shares of the country's earnings—the earnings of the unorganized mass.

Russia started its bolshevik government by eliminating the middle class. Perhaps that is part of our planning economy.

NO CHANGE WANTED.

Those political scientists who declare that the United States needs a parliamentary form of government patterned after the English model, with an administration which stands or falls by its success in the House of Representatives, might notice that if such a system were actually in effect, President Roosevelt would now be out of office.

When the House voted the $2,000,000,000 soldiers' bonus bill the other day, in direct defiance of the White House program, it took a step which under a parliamentary government would have required the immediate resignation of the entire administration.

Under many conditions, of course, that would be an excellent thing. Most Americans, however, will probably conclude that just now a break in the continuity of things at Washington, with the confusion and delay incident to a new national election, might easily prove an exceedingly bad thing.

BENEFIT FROM NEW LAW.

A statement filed with the Federal Trade Commission the other day by bondholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway said that a loan secured in part by the controlling interest in the Alleghany Corporation was in default.

Later on, it developed that the use of this word "default" had been incorrect. However, the whole incident shows how the operation of the new securities law may prove beneficial to investors.

Regardless of the mistaken construction which at first was put upon this statement—it was assumed momentarily, for instance, that the Van Sweringens had lost control of their vast railroad empire—the fact remains that the securities law was the instrumentality through which information of great potential value to investors was made public.

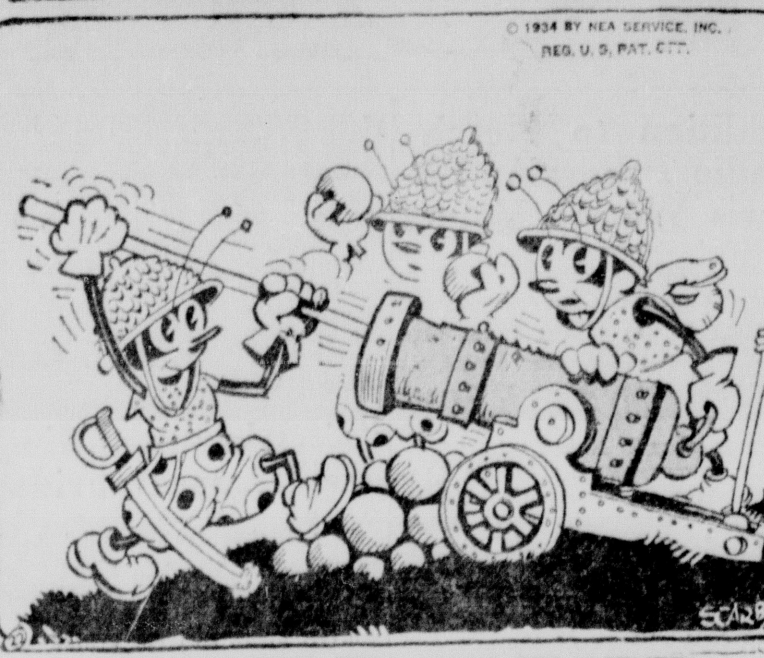

James Roosevelt went to the White House from Boston to explain to his mother why he is opposing the labor amendment to the constitution, which has been hanging fire about ten years, unconscious most of the time. It has been indicated that while he regards his reasons as good, they were not satisfactory to her. It may be worth while to keep an eye on this young man. He seems to know what is right and to stay with it when the country's leadership is going wrong.

Out of the Chicago office of the Home Owners' Loan corporation comes the boast that four hundred Illinois lawyers now are on its payroll. As we understand it, this legislation was to increase the purchasing power of the lawyers.

The whole tendency of a dictatorship is to squeeze out the competent and independent man and create a hierarchy accustomed to obeying. — Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the British council.

One of the soldier ants walked up and said, "I crawled out of my pup tent just to find out what the bugle blowing was about."

"And so did I," another cried. "I guess I'll crawl right back inside. The little lad who blew the horn was having fun, no doubt."

"Now, wait a minute," answered Nature Nick. "If you don't mind I'd like to pick a few of you brave soldiers who are game to lend a hand."

"The little youngsters standing here have lost a friend. They filled with fear. I'll tell you how it happened. Then I am sure you will understand."

When Nick had explained how Duncy had been carried off, the ants felt bad. Said one, "You can depend on me to do what ever I can."

Some of the others cried, "Me, too! We will find poor Duncy ere we are through. Just wait! We will get our cannon. And then off the strange ants ran."

"A cannon?" wee Doty cried. "What for? I hate to hear a cannon roar. Besides, if we shoot that Balloon bird, Duncy might get hit."

"Aw, don't get scared," said Nick. "You will see that he'll be safe as safe can be. This cannon is a strange one. It will pull a very clever trick."

Just then brave Scouty turned around. "Hey, look what is coming over the ground," he shouted. "It's the cannon. Gee. I think it is very cute."

"The ants act just like soldier boys. I will bet they're not afraid of noise. Oh, I can hardly wait until I hear that strange thing shoot."

"We have to load it first, you know," an ant replied. "So, here we go!" And then he poked a ramrod through the cannon very fast.

"It's clean," he shouted, with a grin. "Come on, we will put the powder in. Make sure that we do not use too much. It would make an awful blast."

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REVIEW

Golden Text: Isaiah 9:6
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 23.

By WM. E. Gilroy, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist
The first quarter's lessons have dealt with the greatest story in history, and the greatest experience in history.

The greatest story in history is the story of Jesus of Nazareth. In simplicity, in literary beauty, in moral and spiritual content, it stands supreme in all literature. It is the story of those whom Jesus reached and touched with the power and beauty of his message.

Here we have the greatest experiences in history; not experiences that stand alone or that are opposed to all other moral and spiritual experience, but that, in their record of what came into human life through new vision and new power of action, are supremely significant of all that can happen to a man in his progress upward.

These experiences are composite and diversified. What Jesus did for men and women could not be described always in the same terms except as there was the common element of inspiration and regeneration.

To some, who were victims of their own grievous mistakes, whose lives were wrecked and apparently ruined by their moral failure, Jesus brought the vision of a new life and power to attain it.

There were men of religion, proud of their own attainments, and spiritual sins that marred their lives. To these Jesus brought the lesson of childlikeness, the need of humility, and of seeking God with a sincerity and purity of heart that would purge their lives from all spiritual pride.

There were men of intensity, fired with intense conviction, men like James and John, whom Jesus called "the Sons of Thunder," who were ready even to call down fire from heaven and consume the inhabitants of a village when they thought that these inhabitants had sinned against their Master dishonorably and inhospitably.

There were gentle-spirited people whose souls were filled with the idea of a coming kingdom, and who were waiting expectantly for the coming of the Messiah. Jesus confirmed their hopes, and they found in him realization of the faith that quickened them before his coming.

We see this Master in his human character; first of all the babe born in the manger in Bethlehem coming into the world in lowliness. We see Jesus in his human development as a boy, submitting himself to the disciplines and ritual observances of the religion in which he grew up, seeking baptism from John, even when John, sensing the greatness of the man, assured Jesus that the disciple was unworthy to perform the rite of baptism upon him.

We see Jesus in the violence of his temptations, struggling with the devil, struggling with the forces from within and from without that would have turned him aside from his mission.

We see him as he begins his ministry, raising the high standards of the Kingdom expressed in the Beatitudes and in its normal demands, putting the Kingdom of God first. We see him as he gathers the inner circle of disciples around him and sends them forth with the great message of the Kingdom.

We see him in his teaching, as he tells of the nature of the Kingdom in beautifully simple but effective stories, and we see him, in the final lesson of the quarter, as a world-side Savior, not inhibited by the narrow prejudices of his time and of his race, but ready to respond to the faith of one, religiously an outcast, who besought his services and his blessing.

To review such lessons, in one lesson, is a great task, and it would be almost hopeless for either teacher or commentator, if we could not bring into the forefront the simple, glorious portrayal of the Master himself.

"I Beheld Satan as Lightning Fall"

The first recorded prayer of our Lord is a prayer of thanksgiving. It begins with, "I thank Thee!" The seventy have just returned from their first campaign and are hilarious over their victories. Jesus also rejoices, but the ground of his joy is deeper than theirs. He is jubilant because their success is prophetic. It points to greater victories ahead. He sees in their initial triumph the doom of the empire of evil. It crumbles before the eye of his mind. He also sees God's willingness to use common people to carry out heaven's plans. Ordinary men can accomplish extraordinary results. Obscure peasants can understand things which lie beyond the reach of philosophers and scholars. Men of lowly station can do things which the high and mighty cannot accomplish. There is hope for the world because the childlike spirit can get hold of the secrets of God.

The Lord of heaven is also Lord of the earth. Wonders take place on the earth through men who

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. Socal drug stores. © 1934 C. M. Co.

ANGLERS MOVE TO STOCK PURE WATER STREAMS

Meeting of Fishermen to be Held Here on Sunday Morning

A number of fishermen from Dixon and vicinity, who are anxious to stock spring-fed creeks in this locality with German brown trout, have called a meeting to be held at the Heckman building on North Galena avenue Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The plan will be outlined at this time and streams which are to be stocked will be selected and other important business will be transacted.

A group of anglers who have become interested in the project have invited State Conservation Inspector Charles Duis to conduct a survey of spring-fed streams in this locality. There are a number of suitable creeks which can be stocked, Inspector Duis has learned, and a very suitable site for raising the very small fingerlings until they are of sufficient size to be released to stock the streams, has been located. The small fingerling fish will be obtained from the Federal hatchery at LaCrosse, Wis., under plans of those sponsoring the project.

Large numbers of the German brown trout are available and may be obtained upon the assurance of responsible persons that the streams to be stocked and conditions are suitable for the raising of the fish. Arriving from the Hatchery it is necessary that the very small fish be protected and fed for a period of weeks before being placed in streams for the purpose of stocking. A suitable location for the protection of the small fish has been found on the Gronewald farm east of the Kingdom, which has been investigated by sponsors of the plan and has been approved. The small fish will be protected

LOCAL OFFICERS TO DEVELOP NEW RELIEF PROJECT

Chairman Spencer Explains Successor to Civil Works

BULLETIN
The committee selected to determine and establish prevailing wage rates in Lee county have announced the following scale to be paid for work relief under the Federal and Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, becoming effective April 1:
Common labor, 40 cents per hour; carpenters, 75 cents per hour; masons and plasterers, 85 cents per hour; painters, 65 cents per hour; all other skilled labor, 85 cents per hour.
The above wage scale is to prevail in Lee county on all projects until the committee revises the scale, it was announced at the local headquarters of the Emergency Relief Commission today.

Under the new Work Relief program which is to replace CWA activities in Lee county after April 1, the local government units within the county will be required to develop the work projects and furnish materials and supervision for their operation, according to D. H. Spencer, chairman of the Lee County Emergency Relief Committee. The recently appointed Work Relief Committee will be charged with the actual carrying out of the work.

"The Work Relief Committee will be responsible for the planning, organization and conduct of work of those certified to be eligible for work relief," said Chairman Spencer. "The projects to be developed under this plan must be of the greatest social and economic value to the general public or to the publicly owned institutions within the county in order to be approved by the State Emergency Relief Commission. They must be carefully planned to be of the greatest efficiency and the greatest benefit to our community and should be coordinated with larger plans for local and state improvement."

"The projects to be undertaken must be independent of the kinds of work ordinarily done by our local political subdivisions. No projects will be allowed such as garbage collection, snow removal, street cleaning, lawn maintenance in parks and other public grounds."

To Fix Wages
In order to establish proper rates of pay under the new program Mr. Spencer, has appointed a "wage" committee consisting of one representative each from labor, business and the County Relief Administration.

It will be the duty of this committee to determine prevailing wage rates in the county for the various classifications of employment under the Work Relief system.

This is in conformance with instructions received from Robert J. Dunham, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, in connection with the carrying out of the new relief program in Illinois.

"Wages to be established will be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and are to conform to the prevailing rates for the occupation and the locality within the county in which work is done," said Chairman Spencer. "In no case, however, will the Work Relief pay be less than thirty cents per hour. Hours of work are limited so that the maximum weekly earnings of any worker do not exceed the amount necessary to meet the budgetary requirements of his family."

"Workers will be allowed to make up any time lost because of inclement weather, unavoidable delays, national and state holidays, or through other conditions beyond their control within the succeeding twenty days after the time is lost."

Cost of Cross-Country Mail
When transportation of mail through intermediary countries is necessary the cost of such transportation is borne by the country of origin, and payments are made to the intermediary countries on the basis of statistics taken periodically, and at rates fixed by the convention of the Universal Postal union, to which practically all the countries of the world belong.

CUNNINGHAM IS WINNER IN HIS CANADIAN RACE

Established Dominion Record in 1000-Yd. Race Last Night

Hamilton, Ont., Mar. 22—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, the durable Kansan who cracked the world indoor mile record with his 4:08.4 performance last Saturday, today had the Canadian record for 1,000 yards to add to his collection.

Cunningham was clocked in 2:12.2 as he ran away from Phil Edwards, the Hamilton Negro veteran, in the featured event at the 91st Highlanders meet last night. The time was one-fifth of second slower than the world indoor standard, which has stood against all assaults since Harold Cuthill established it in 1922.

Despite the brilliant performance Cunningham had to share the night's honors with Bert Pearson, the youthful Hamilton sprinter, and Hank Cieman, heel and toe traveler from Toronto.

The 20-year-old Pearson came through with a pair of smashing sprint victories over Ralph Metcalfe, the Marquette University Negro sprinter, at 60 and 40 yards. He negotiated the longer distance in 6.5 seconds and equalled the Canadian 40 yard record with a 4.6 performance. Metcalfe was right at his shoulder at each finish with Edwin Hall of Kansas third.

Cieman clipped a tenth of a second off the world one-mile walking record, which had stood since 1910, as he marched through a handicap field to cover the four furlongs in 6:25.7. Another Canadian, George Goulding, established the mark.

KINGDOM PTA AGRICULTURAL MEETING HELD

Gather at the Riverside School Last Thursday Evening

By Mrs. L. Stevens
Kingdom—The P. T. A. met at the Riverside school last Thursday evening. This being agricultural night the meeting was called to order and all joined in singing "Old McDonald Had a Farm". The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Whitney. The president, Mrs. Bieschke, appointed her nominating committee, as follows: Mrs. Will Morris, Mrs. Will Floto and Jesse Gray.

As is the custom at these meetings the children always give a short program for the parents and their friends as it is always encouraging how these little folks make advancement from month to month. They received their sign "superior school" this past week and it is now displayed on the building. The children gave the following numbers:

Song—by school, assisted on the piano by Phyllis Gray, one of the pupils.
Piano solo—Kenneth Gundie
Piano solo—Vivian Floto
Song—Third grade boys—Billie Bieschke, Roy Whitney and Kenneth Gundie.
Piano solos by Billie Bieschke and Roy Whitney.

Instrumental duet — Phyllis Gray and Roy Whitney.
This completed the children's program and the meeting was turned over to the leader, Elmer Whitney.

Reading—Affidavits and Cockle-burrs—Lowell Gundie.

Reading—Way Back When—Thomas McWehly.

Reading—Advertisement for post holes—Mr. Bieschke.
The Depression Quartet gave a selection. They were Elmer Whitney, Thomas McWehly, Will Morris and Frank Floto, assisted on the piano by Mrs. Clifford Floto.

Reading—Lazy Farmer — Will Morris.

Reading—Richard Whitney.
This part of the program was packed with good humor, wise cracks and jokes. Those taking part put it over in a big way. The third part of our program was brought by Prof. John Weiss of the Dixon high school faculty bringing with him five student members of the Future Farmers organization.

Herschel Hopkins, chairman of the group, gave the greetings and introduced the speakers. Edward Cornish' talk on "Future Farmers" told about what work consists of and to develop rural leadership. Robert Williams talked on "Care for Chicks." Mr. Heckman talked on "Project Work." Robert Truitt on "Swine Project." Fred Benson spoke on "What the Future Farmer Organization May Mean to America."

Ed Herschel Hopkins spoke of "Control of Chinch Bugs." These boys gave their parts well and gave much valuable information. Professor Weiss is always welcome in our midst and everyone present was grateful to him and his boys.

International Law

By international law is meant the system of rules that civilized nations agree to observe and agree to be obligatory as a common law for regulating their mutual rights and duties in peace and war. Hugo Grotius has been called the father of international law and in 1625 prepared a great treatise covering many debated points. In 1873 the Institute of International Law was founded by the leading jurists of the civilized world. America was represented by David Dudley Field. The Hague tribunal, the World court and the League of Nations are all developments of the attempt to stabilize law among the nations.

CLEVELAND MAY IMPROVE IN OLD PARK THIS YEAR

Indians Have Had Fill of Great Municipal Stadium in Year

(Note: This is the tenth of a series of stories dealing with the 1934 of major league baseball clubs.)

By RALPH WHEATLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer
New Orleans, March 22—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians are pinning high hopes for working up the baseball ladder by returning this year to the old league park where a ball can be hit over the fence and count as a home run once in awhile.

They have had enough of the Municipal Stadium in Cleveland where a ball hit far enough to clear any fence in the league has fallen into the glove of an outfielder for a simple out. This is blamed for the slump in batting averages rather than the hitting ability of the players.

But the Indians have their troubles like all the rest and Walter Johnson, who took the manager's helm from Roger Peckinpaugh, is working by day and pondering by night to smooth them over.

Perrell a Holdout
One of his most serious worries is hold-out Wesley Perrell, who until last year had won twenty or more games a year in four seasons for the Indians. The Indians had counted on him to return to form and produce the spark on the mound, but it now appears that he plans to stay at home unless his contract is revised upward.

Johnson is shaping his team with Perrell out and is banking on the new southpaw Lloyd Brown, obtained from the Boston Red Sox in the Cissell deal. He is particularly anxious for Brown to come through as the Indians for four years have been in need of a top line left handed pitcher. For three years with Washington, Brown averaged fifteen victories a year and has been showing good form in spring training.

Work Hard on Lee
The coaches also are working hard on Lee, up from Toledo, and if these two southpaws come through, the absence of Perrell would not be felt so strongly.

From the pitchers' box, Johnson's worries turn to second base, where he is striving manfully to turn a third baseman into a second baseman. The trouble is that Odel Hale, who was switched from third to second, does not like to play second base and hopes that another candidate will appear. Knickerbocker is being groomed behind Hale and probably will share the second spot with him. At the time of the Cissell trade, the Indians had hoped to get Melillo from the St. Louis Browns but that did not pan out.

Outside of these things and Harley Boss, the strong first baseman being ill, the situation in the Indian camp is satisfactory to the management.

Trosky has been moved from the outfield to first base to give support there, leaving Vosmik, Averill and Porter as the regulars in the back lot. Boss, Burnett, Kamm and Hale make up the present regular infield and the old standbys are behind the bat, Spencer, Myatt and Pytal. The pitchers list includes Hudlin, Harder, Hargrand, Connally, Clint Bro. A, Lloyd Brown, Lefty Lee, Monte Pearson and Perrell if he reports.

PILLAR OF SALT

PULLING "FAST ONES"
A little girl teased her father at lunchtime to take her to school in the automobile.

"But it's only three blocks to school," said her father. "You've always walked before on bright days like this."

"I know I have, daddy," she answered. "But my feet hurt, and besides I'm tired."

The father doubted that her reasons were real, but when the time arrived he drove his daughter to school on his way to the office.

"Now, sister," he said, as he brought the car to a halt, "tell me the real reason for your wanting to ride to school. I know you told me your feet hurt and you were tired, but what is the real reason?"

"Well, daddy," she admitted, "some of the boys took my hat off on the way home this noon, and they wouldn't give it back until I started to cry."

That is an example of the workings of the mind of a child who is only learning to get the better of another mind. Every child is given to these tricks, and as he grows he uses them more and more.

They say it takes an unusually alert psychologist to get the better of a British diplomat. The Englishman, so it is said, says one thing and means another. He thinks up reasons that appeal most to his adversary and hides the real motive at his mission fall.

We begin learning to "pull fast ones" when we are children, but some of us never become as proficient in the art as the British diplomat. We either lack the "poker face" or lack the ability to make our stories sound believable.

After all though, it may be a good thing that we aren't all great diplomats. If we were, we would soon lose confidence in everyone else and go about bumping our heads against stone walls and trying to play lone hands.

NEWS CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

There were fine spirit in the present service at the Brethren church last night and the Christian fellowship could be keenly felt as a good sized audience worshiped together. Pius Burgard read a splendid selection that all enjoyed. The girls were in the lead again last night, but the boys are making an effort to win tonight. The Lenten season furnishes an ideal time in which to increase our spiritual living as we keep in memory the suffering, sacrifice and love of the Christ who died for us. May every member of the church do their best to make this meeting a real blessing to the community. "Where is My Wandering Boy?" will be illustrated by the stereopticon tonight. Mrs. Thompson will have something good for the boys and girls. "How to Become a Christian" will be the subject used by the speaker this evening. The service starts at 7:30. All are invited to attend.

AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH TONIGHT

Rev. James A. Barnett will preach tonight at the Pro-Easter services in progress at the First Christian church, taking for his subject, "Thou Art the Christ." The choir will sing a special hymn "Christ is King" by DeLoss Smith. The Junior choir will also sing some choruses. Miss Whitman will sing a solo, "Some Other Day."

Another large crowd assembled last night to enjoy the service. Miss Whitman sang, "Because His Name Is Jesus." The choir platform was filled to overflowing and the choir sang a special number "He's A Wonderful Savior to Me." The children sang a few choruses which the older ones greatly enjoyed and joined with them in singing at intervals.

There will be a special children's meeting Friday afternoon at 4:00. Miss Whitman will drill the boys and girls on some new songs and the pastor will give a brief Bible drill.

Services continue nightly at 7:30 including Saturday night.

PAW PAW CLUB HEARD REPORT ON BOY SCOUTS

Court of Honor Will be Held There on Tuesday Evening

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, Mar. 22—A largely attended meeting of the Paw Paw Community club, the regular monthly gathering, was held Tuesday evening at their hall. A number of political candidates for office were present. Dr. A. J. Peters, president of the organization presided at the session. Editor Frank Nangle gave a brief report of the University of Scouting which was attended by him and the president of the organization at Dixon Sunday. The Community club sponsors the local Boy Scout troop. In their report Editor Nangle called attention to the Scout Court of Honor which is to be held at the high school auditorium here next Tuesday evening with all Scout troops of Lee county participating. This is the first time that such an event has been staged in Paw Paw.

Frank Birch of Sterling, Big Ten football official, was the principal speaker of the evening. He recalled his early acquaintance with Jesse Harper, a native of Paw Paw and prominent football coach and authority in his later years, and stressed the fine influence on sportsmanship exerted by the former Paw Paw resident. The remainder of the talk proved highly interesting as he recounted many of his observations and experiences in his 23 years of experience as an official on the largest gridirons in the country. Earl Britten, former Illinois football star and running mate for "Red" Grange, was scheduled to appear on the program, but it was reported that his recent wedding at Mendota interfered with the program.

All of the candidates present were introduced singly to the members of the club and their guests and appropriately closed the program by singing the chorus of "Sweet Adeline." The entertainment committee served a very tasty lunch which was followed by a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Parks went to Elmhurst Friday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Paige, until Monday.

Miss Josephine Bevilacqua who is a student at Rosary College at River Forest, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmer and Robert Palmer of Madison, Wis. spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Palmer.

Scoutmaster Clarence Walker and Robert Stitzel spent Sunday at the high school in Dixon where they attended the University of Scouting.

The card party at the Nelson school house Friday evening which was sponsored by the committee women of the Girl Scouts, was very well attended, about 80 being present. There were several tables of bridge, five hundred and bunch. Prizes were given for each division. A beautiful, large angel food cake was sold by chances and Elwin Bunnell of Dixon was the lucky winner. A fine sum was realized which will go to the Girl Scout fund.

Mrs. E. Fowler and daughter Miss Grace, and Mrs. Arthur Warehime of Sterling also Mrs. Wm. Butler of Chicago and Mrs. M. C. Stitzel spent Monday in Rockford shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Cossman and son Billie spent a couple of days in Fulton visiting with relatives.

Will Parks of Amboy visited his brother F. W. Parks and wife a few days last week.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome youth, becomes a fugitive when he flees from Florida to Cuba with BEAU and LOTTIE, two thieves, following a masquerade party at the home of rich JIM FIELD. Beau has killed TED JEFFRIES, one of Field's guests, and stolen the Jeffries pearls. Pablito does not know this, or that he himself is accused of the crime. He believes (incorrectly) that a blow from his fist has killed a man and that this fact exiles him forever from ESTELLE FIELD whom he loves and who loves him.

In Havana he hopes to meet NORRIS NOYES, who befriended Pablito as a child. Noyes also is a fugitive, wanted for a crime years before.

MARCH TREADWAY knows Pablito is innocent but fears scandal if she tells the truth. She goes to Havana, hoping to find Pablito there.

Meanwhile SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablito's father, begins a search for his son.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

SIR AUBREY'S agent discovered the name of the ship's doctor on the boat on which Mary Mariage gave birth to her son. The doctor was now on a ship sailing from Philadelphia for Naples and Genoa and the ship happened, at the time, to be lying in the Delaware. Therefore Sir Aubrey and Billings, his agent, journeyed to Philadelphia and to the docks where, after considerable waiting, they met the doctor.

He remembered perfectly, he said, with a wide wave of hands and a lift of the shoulders. The girl had been fearfully ill. He had done his best, and God was witness of this, but—

"Girl or boy?" Sir Aubrey put in.

"A boy. A fine boy."

Sir Aubrey drew a deep breath. For a second his cheeks had whitened; then they became more florid than usual.

The ship's doctor reminded vaguely. The baby had been adopted by two Cuban or South American girls. He did not remember their names. The captain might, because he had taken the responsibility in letting them take the baby without any legal interference. The captain had been troubled by this responsibility, he thought. No, the doctor could not remember anything more about the young ladies who had adopted the baby, except that they had had much money and they had traveled with an aunt, or cousin.

Billings wrote down the name of the ship's captain. The doctor did not know where the captain was now. "Perhaps with God," he suggested cheerfully.

Alarm flashed in Sir Aubrey's eyes. "We will hope for the best," said Billings heavily.

PABLITO woke next morning to find sunlight on the highly polished floor of his room and a languid, caressing warmth in the air. For a moment he studied the tinted plaster walls. Then he remembered where he was and that he did not know where Noyes was.

"I've got to find him!" Pablito cried.

He realized that fighting among themselves would be disastrous. "I won't say no more about that now," he confided, grudgingly, "but some day you'll be sorry for those words. Honest to God you will."

Pablito made no answer. A few moments later Lottie tried to open Beau's door, found it locked and banged on it angrily.

thought. Noyes was sure to need him and the thought of Noyes' misery eclipsed his own.

Already the narrow streets were teeming with the excitement of a holiday. Shrill sounds crept up into Pablito's room, matching the shrill colors which somehow never seem inharmonious in Cuba.

Beau, in the next room, stretched and yawned. He liked this place and he and Lottie should be able to do a nice lot of "cleaning up," he thought. A holiday crowd was always easy to "pick." Beau was quite sure that he was going to enjoy himself.

He lay thinking of this and of how satisfactory events were working out. The night before Lottie had come to his room, closed the door behind her and demanded, "Whatcha plannin' to do with him, Beau? Come clean. If you do him dirty, I warn you I'll fix you! Understand?" Her eyes were threateningly and broodingly fixed on him, her jaw set.

He had answered evasively but with some measure of truth. He knew Pablito's value and intended to make use of it. Pablito had an honest look that should help in disposing of stolen goods without arousing suspicion. Beau felt that he had a firm hold on Pablito. He had seen him "knock off" the man who had beaten the child.

"I ain't got to do him dirty," Beau assured Lottie. "I kinda like him." He added sheepishly.

He really did like Pablito. He liked him so much that he wished he had not had to use Pablito's knife to kill Jeffries. "But anybody woulda done it," he told himself over and over in self-defense.

BEAU heard a noise in the next room and slid from his bed to open the door between the rooms. Pablito, having bathed, was getting into his amazing blue suit.

"Morning," he said shortly. "Lo, kid," Beau answered and, lounging against the door, added, "We're goin' to the carnival. I heard las' night where I can rent suits and I'm goin' around to get 'em after breakfast. We'll have the show sent up here. Better not make too many public appearances till I know how things are, see?"

"Yes—"

"Whatja want for breakfast?"

"Coffee."

"Is that all?"

"Yes."

"I'm goin' to look out for you, kid. Honest to God, you can trust your friend, Beau."

"Can it?"

"Say! The other stord erect. Listen, I done in more'n one man for givin' me a slur like that!"

Pablito went on tying his tie and Beau's anger cooled quickly. He realized that fighting among themselves would be disastrous.

"I won't say no more about that now," he confided, grudgingly, "but some day you'll be sorry for those words. Honest to God you will."

Pablito made no answer. A few moments later Lottie tried to open Beau's door, found it locked and banged on it angrily.

PAW PAW CLUB

PAW PAW, Mar. 22—A largely attended meeting of the Paw Paw Community club, the regular monthly gathering, was held Tuesday evening at their hall. A number of political candidates for office were present. Dr. A. J. Peters, president of the organization presided at the session. Editor Frank Nangle gave a brief report of the University of Scouting which was attended by him and the president of the organization at Dixon Sunday. The Community club sponsors the local Boy Scout troop. In their report Editor Nangle called attention to the Scout Court of Honor which is to be held at the high school auditorium here next Tuesday evening with all Scout troops of Lee county participating. This is the first time that such an event has been staged in Paw Paw.

Frank Birch of Sterling, Big Ten football official, was the principal speaker of the evening. He recalled his early acquaintance with Jesse Harper, a native of Paw Paw and prominent football coach and authority in his later years, and stressed the fine influence on sportsmanship exerted by the former Paw Paw resident. The remainder of the talk proved highly interesting as he recounted many of his observations and experiences in his 23 years of experience as an official on the largest gridirons in the country. Earl Britten, former Illinois football star and running mate for "Red" Grange, was scheduled to appear on the program, but it was reported that his recent wedding at Mendota interfered with the program.

All of the candidates present were introduced singly to the members of the club and their guests and appropriately closed the program by singing the chorus of "Sweet Adeline." The entertainment committee served a very tasty lunch which was followed by a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Parks went to Elmhurst Friday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Paige, until Monday.

Miss Josephine Bevilacqua who is a student at Rosary College at River Forest, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua.

Scoutmaster Clarence Walker and Robert Stitzel spent Sunday at the high school in Dixon where they attended the University of Scouting.

The card party at the Nelson school house Friday evening which was sponsored by the committee women of the Girl Scouts, was very well attended, about 80 being present. There were several tables of bridge, five hundred and bunch. Prizes were given for each division. A beautiful, large angel food cake was sold by chances and Elwin Bunnell of Dixon was the lucky winner. A fine sum was realized which will go to the Girl Scout fund.

Mrs. E. Fowler and daughter Miss Grace, and Mrs. Arthur Warehime of Sterling also Mrs. Wm. Butler of Chicago and Mrs. M. C. Stitzel spent Monday in Rockford shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Cossman and son Billie spent a couple of days in Fulton visiting with relatives.

EASTER CUSTOMS around the World

Modern Greece holds to an ancient custom whose origin was the killing of the Paschal lamb on Calvary. Celebrating the end of the long fast of Lent, Greeks build their family fires and then gather to chat and visit with neighbors from dawn until noon while the tender young lamb is roasted slowly over a fire, with wood as carefully selected and prepared as the lamb itself.
